

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 14.

YOUNG VIRGINIA ON HER MUSCLE.—The town of Wellsburg is all torn up, so to speak, over a sensational episode that occurred there last week, and which continues to form one of the leading topics of conversation. The story is that the sensation was started through the gossiping propensities of a woman who is getting dangerously near the point where her age will prevent her being longer designated as a young woman. Report has it that she set about some scandalous stories which involved the good name and fair reputation of several well-known people whose characters are said to be above reproach; anyhow, these stories were started and they were traced down to this particular woman. One of her stories related the good name of a very young miss about 18, who determined to have satisfaction. She accordingly secured a cowhide, but being unable to properly conceal it about her person, made up her mind to trust to her own little fists to punish the gossip. Accompanied by a younger sister, she went to the room of the woman she wanted, stepped in quietly, locked the door, seated her errand, and then pitched in. The first blow sent the gossip off her chair and under a sewing machine, and then there was a piling. The miss of 18 threw herself on her defamer and held her down while she pounded her and pulled her hair. The woman howled for help and one of the police officers of the town bearing the racket hurried to the scene. He found the door locked but as the tumult inside increased he finally adopted a heroic course and smashed the door in. As he did this the young girl, her eyes aflame with the excitement of her victory, jumped up and bawling the officer a ten dollar bill said: "This will pay my fine—I fixed myself for this before I started in on her." The punishment inflicted by the girl on the woman was quite severe.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

MEDICINAL.

SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I called to see a colored woman who had a malignant form of cancer on her foot. The cancer grew worse under the prescribed treatment, and the toe and one side of the foot were at length entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's specific, and it cured her sound well. This was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's specific as most excellent medicine for skin diseases, as its tendency is to drive out the poison.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.
For four or five years I had a swelling cancer on my tongue. It made a considerable hole in it. I became alarmed at its progress, and went to Atlanta, Ga., to see a doctor. The result was that I commenced the use of Swift's specific, and the sore was soon gone, without a trace of it left. (Testimonial, Geo. H. H. 28, A. Lewis.)
